iPhone : the great seduction !

If the general public has massively adopted it, professionals now refuse to do without the leader of smartphones.

Since 2008, ARFNLabs has created a niche on the market of integration of the tool in the technically constrained world of professionals. And in 2010, the company is taking its expertise in adapting the tool one step further using a rollout based on automatic configuration and instant adequacy to a certificate-based high security infrastructure...

Or in common terms providing iPhones to all employees, thanks to an exclusive ARFNLabs implementation for a major energy company !
